Wă

Inspired by the designer's memories of travels in Asia, Wă evokes rural villages where the rooftops of houses are covered in thousands of terracotta tiles, layered and stacked atop one another in intricate, interlocking formation inherited from ancient Chinese techniques. The designer translated her impressions of these ancient patterns into a design structure, giving rise to the Wă collection.

WǺ is inspired by the designer's impressions of ancient Asian rooftops, where the orderly interconnection of elements creates a harmonious, repeatable design.

Rooted in architectural principles, the WǺ collection is defined by its engraved design, a harmonious blend of structure, ornamentation and order. Like a mosaic, each element is repeated in a precise 9,5 × 18,5 cm module to create a striking new surface in full-body porcelain tile. Available in four natural tones, the collection integrates smoothly into a wide range of interior and architectural design settings.
