

Wall seeks floor for a matched look!

Digitally printed acoustic panels in the design of the floor

FN Neuhofer perfectly combines acoustics and design: the FN Acustico acoustic panels, which not only reduce sound by up to 60 %, but also blend in perfectly with the floor decor. With digitally printed wood fibre slats that are designed to exactly match the look of the flooring, a harmonious unit can be created for any interior.

Customised designs for sophisticated room designs

Whether laminate, vinyl or parquet – the acoustic panels from FN Neuhofer can be customised in the design of the flooring. There are two types of coating to choose from: high-quality foiling for laminate and vinyl flooring and high-quality veneer for parquet. Each element is digitally printed according to customer specifications to achieve a perfect visual match.

Simple decor matching

For perfect coordination of the floor decor, customers only need to send the decor data or a sample of their floor. FN Neuhofer takes care of the rest and delivers a perfectly matched product.
